About the programme

The EU GDPR – A Hong Kong Perspective (SCPD18022701)

Course outline

In May 2018, the first global data protection law, General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), will replace the current Data Protection Directive in the European Union (EU) and be directly applicable in all EU member states. The GDPR significantly expands the scope of the EU data protection law, which means that the new rules will apply to many businesses in Asia, including Hong Kong. One of the headline aspects of the GDPR is that the maximum fines available to data protection authorities will increase significantly. Infringement of some GDPR provisions are subject to administrative fines up to €20 million or 4% of global turnover, whichever is higher.

The expanded territorial scope of the GDPR affects any business coming into contact with European data. Accountants and auditors working in multinational organizations need to get acquainted with the provisions of GDPR in order to avoid running into legal troubles. This seminar aims at presenting the requirements of the GDPR, with emphasis on the following topics:

- Scope of the GDPR
- International data transfers
- Mandatory data protection officer
- Data controller accountability
- Data processor obligations

Exploring Commercial and Financial Disputes with Case Studies: How to Resolve Employment and Financial Disputes without Going through Court Litigation? (SCPD18030701)

Course outline

In 2016, groups of ATV employees are suing ATV for overdue salaries as well as long service/ severance payments. While some of them have already settled out of the court, some others are still disputing the amounts that ATV had owed. In this regard, can the employers and employees free to negotiate settlement terms under the current laws of Hong Kong?

Financial disputes had arisen from time to time: California Fitness (加州健身); DSC (德爾斯); the estate of Ms. Anita Mui (梅艷芳) based on her trust with HSBC Trustee (Hong Kong) which was established primarily for her mother.

In this seminar, some important legal issues on liquidation, as well as the principles of “Beneficiaries” will be discussed. Case studies will also be used to illustrate how mediation can assist in resolving various types of financial disputes.
