Revised DIPN 47 – Exchange of Information on Request

About the topic

Hong Kong has made use of double taxation agreement (DTA), tax information exchange agreement (TIEA) and the Convention on Mutual Administrative Assistance in Tax Matters (the Convention) as instruments for exchange of information (EOI) with other jurisdictions. These instruments not only allow the Inland Revenue Department (IRD) to obtain tax information from overseas tax authorities, but also allow overseas tax authorities to obtain tax information from taxpayers in Hong Kong through the IRD. Tax authorities all over the world have been relying on EOI to obtain important information for cracking down tax avoidance and tax evasion cases. The EOI scope and its impact on taxpayers are far reaching. The IRD issued revised DIPN 47 in July 2020 in which the IRD summarized the authorities of EOI on request and their procedures for handling EOI requests.

In this seminar, the speakers will share with you:

- mechanisms for EOI in Hong Kong
- key updates in the revised DIPN 47 and;
- case sharing
