Latest ethical challenges and conflicts for liquidators

About the topic

At this webinar, the speaker, Dr. Davy Wu, a course director of the Institute's diploma in insolvency, will give a refresher about the latest ethical challenges and potential conflicts of interest faced by liquidators.

There have been a few Hong Kong cases where the court has commented negatively on conduct of liquidators. Are liquidators aware of the implications of these court cases? The Official Receiver has referred to these cases in relation to the "Panel A" Scheme, and indicated the need for the "Panel A" rules to provide clearer guidance on what action may be taken on matters of liquidators' conduct.

This webinar will cover several important court cases and the issues raised by the court in these cases, aiming to give members insights into what the court regards as acceptable and what it frowns upon.
