

Tax audit workshop (rerun in Cantonese):
Practical Approaches to Handling IRD Tax Audits – From Cradle to Resolution
(including IRD’s new approach for file selection) Event code: SCPD26032401

About the topic

As the Hong Kong SAR Government has been facing budget deficits and decreasing financial reserves, the Inland Revenue Department (IRD) have been adopting a more stringent approach to tax audits, including a new approach for file selection. Recent developments in local tax legislation, coupled with shifts in the global tax environment, have prompted the IRD to evolve their tax audit strategy, encompassing a wider range of issues.

In the current economic environment, taxpayers undergoing tax audits will not only face potential financial implications, but will also need to divert vital resources from normal business operations to deal with the audit-related work. Therefore, it is essential that taxpayers stay on top of the situation at each stage of the case, and take the necessary steps in order to bring any tax audit to an early conclusion.

In this workshop, the speakers will make use of the most recent cases to demonstrate how IRD have expanded their file selection spectrum. The speakers will also demonstrate the use of practical approaches and various strategies to handle tax audits, as well as looking at issues commonly triggering tax audits. They will take participants through the journey from the start to the final resolution of a tax audit.
