

E-learning webinar:
Digitalization Series - Opportunities for Accountants in Web3.0 and Digital Asset

Programme Code: EWEB26072901

The accounting profession is entering a new era shaped by digital transformation. Web3.0 technologies and digital assets are redefining how businesses operate, creating both challenges and unprecedented opportunities for accountants. What business opportunities can accountants pursue in Web3 and digital assets? From tokenomics advisory, smart contract auditing, blockchain forensics, DAO treasury management, and real-time attestation, to private key controls, ICOs, STOs, RWAs, NFT valuation, stablecoin consulting, and regulatory compliance—accountants can transform crypto complexity into high-value service lines.

This seminar will explore the evolving landscape, highlight practical applications, and provide insights into how professionals can adapt, thrive, and add value in a decentralized economy.

In this seminar, you will:

- Learn how to capture new revenue, differentiate expertise, ensure compliance, boost audit efficiency, mitigate risks, and future-proof the practice.
- Explore more business opportunities in Web 3.0 and digital asset
