HKICPA

Certificate on Sustainability Reporting

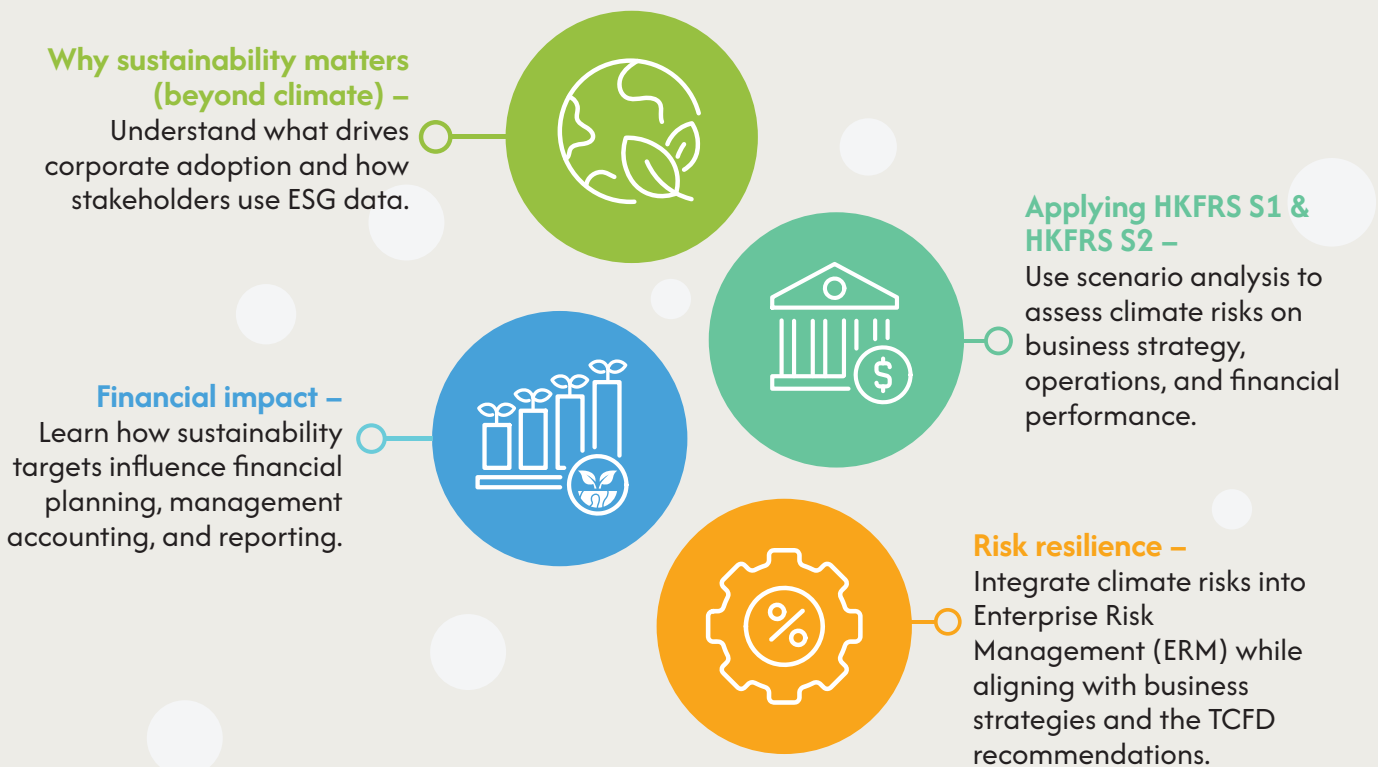

OVERVIEW OF THE CERTIFICATE PROGRAMME

Why does sustainability reporting matters for business?

The HKFRS S1 & HKFRS S2 take effect starting from 1 August 2025, this will make sustainability reporting consistent and comparable, helping businesses align with global market expectations, and strengthening Hong Kong's position as a financial hub.

The HKICPA (the appointed sustainability disclosure standard setter in Hong Kong) has launched the HKICPA Certificate on Sustainability Reporting (Certificate Programme) to empower professionals and companies with essential knowledge and skills for implementing HKFRS S1 & HKFRS S2 sustainability-related financial disclosures and climate-related disclosures.

Key learning focus areas include:

Programme Update

HKICPA has recently been appointed as an official ISSB Training Partner by the IFRS Foundation. As part of this development, the Institute is enhancing the HKICPA Certificate on Sustainability Reporting to incorporate official IFRS Foundation-developed training content and the latest practical implementation insights.

The enhanced version of the programme is expected to be launched later this year. The current programme remains open for enrolment until the launch of the enhanced version, continuing to provide participants with a solid foundation in sustainability reporting. Please note that eligibility for a certificate issued by the IFRS Foundation will apply only to the enhanced programme. Further details, including the updated curriculum and certification arrangements, will be announced in due course.
