Lunch seminar

A closer look at unfair preference and related claims

About the topic

In recent years there have been some cases in which the court has ruled against insolvency practitioners in their unfair preference claims against preferred creditors. This seminar takes a closer look at the unfair preference provisions and considers when and how they should be used, against both preferred creditors and guarantors. It also considers the relationship between unfair preference and related claims such as transactions at undervalue, dispositions with intent to defraud and directors' misfeasance.
