

HKICPA e-seminar: HKFRS 13 Fair value measurement (audio)

The measurement of fair value under HKFRS may not be an easy task as often times it requires judgment from the management team. HKFRS 13 is a standard which defines fair value and provides guidance, under a principles-based framework, on how to measure fair value. This e-learning outlines the basic concepts of fair value under HKFRS 13 and key principles on how to measure fair value where entities are permitted or required to measure or disclose the fair value of non-financial and financial assets and liabilities.
