

Young Members Committee webinar: Experience sharing: Start-up journey of a young entrepreneur

Start-ups are the lifeblood of our economy and the source of innovation across the globe. They create jobs, new products, dreams, and disruption. They are led by entrepreneurs who work hard to bring their ideas to life. It would be great if the process was easy, but it's not.

In this sharing session, a young entrepreneur will share with us his experience turning from a banking professional to an entrepreneur, what challenges he faced, what to prepare, what kind of support he had looked for, as well as how he turned his idea into a real business.

Join this free webinar organized by the Institute's Young Members Committee to learn more and unleash your entrepreneurial spirit.
