

Live webinar:

Impairment post-HKFRS 16

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS:

After more than two years of applying HKFRS 16 Leases, we have become accustomed to seeing a right-of-use (RoU) asset on the balance sheet; and we know full well that the RoU asset is subject to impairment just like any other asset. Since the RoU asset generally does not generate cash inflows on its own, it is usually tested for impairment as part of a cash generating unit (CGU), which often requires us to determine the value-in-use (VIU) of the CGU. That's the problem:

- Can I still include all the legacy operating lease payments in the VIU calculation post-HKFRS 16?
- What do I do with the lease liability? Should it be included in the carrying amount and/or the recoverable amount of the CGU for impairment testing purposes?
- Can't I just assess the CGU for impairment the old (pre-HKFRS 16) way? What's the fuss about?
- What else do I need to watch out for?

We will discuss the above questions in this webinar and use detailed numerical examples to illustrate the issues.

This live webinar includes various polling questions to allow for active participation by the participants. There will be a Q&A session at the end.
