

Panel discussion webinar:

Audit Quality – A culture of professional skepticism

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS:

This webinar will explore how an audit firm culture of challenge and professional skepticism contributes to audit quality. Panelists comprising different stakeholder groups in the financial reporting ecosystem – auditor, standard setter and regulator – will share their perspectives and experience in promoting an audit culture that supports high quality audit. They will consider the following questions:

- Why is having the right culture important to achieving audit quality?
- What are the challenges to exercising professional skepticism in audit engagements?
- How can audit firms instil a culture of challenge and professional skepticism in its people?
- How can different parties in the financial reporting ecosystem help with improving audit quality?

This live webinar encourages interactive-learning. A Q&A session will be included during the webinar providing opportunities for participants to explore the topics in more detail and ask questions.
