 Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing Series - Practical solutions to implementing the AML/CTF requirements (rerun)

The Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing Ordinance (AMLO) extended the statutory anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing (AML/CTF) regime to accountants and other professionals, with effect from March 2018. Under AMLO, accountants are required to perform customer due diligence and record keeping when they prepare for or carry out certain kinds of transactions for their clients. Other existing legislation imposes requirements to, e.g., report suspicious transactions and apply targeted financial sanctions. The Institute has issued AML/CTF guidelines and a practice manual to help members comply with their AML/CTF obligations. It is important, particularly for member practices and members working them, to understand these obligations, as non-compliance could potentially result in disciplinary action and, in relation to certain statutory obligations, even criminal sanctions.

The workshops exploring practical solutions to facilitate compliance with AML/CTF requirements will be rerun as webinars on 18 March (part 1) and 6 April (part 2).
