E-learning webinar:
Carbon Neutrality in Building and Green Finance
(Programme Code: EWEB22072801)

There is a growing pressure to transition to net zero. With Hong Kong's commitment to reach net zero before 2050 and align with the Paris Agreement, the real estate sector will need to adapt to a rapidly changing market landscape.

While there is appetite for change, decarbonisation of the built environment requires companies to implement green buildings at scale and to be able to access the appropriate financing to do it.

This webinar will talk about how companies can get ahead of the curve and set out a clear action plan for decarbonisation of their real estate assets in a simple and cost-effective way using the EDGE software tool. Participants will learn how to scale green building efforts and how to tie their efforts with the green finance that is available for companies looking to decarbonise their buildings.

Topics include:

- Overview of the green building market
- Introduction to EDGE
- Accessing finance for green buildings
- Global case studies
